Three More Branch Offices to Serve Ulster's Veterans

Saugerties, Wallkill and Highland Are Chosen;
Makes Four in County

In order to serve better the needs of discharged veterans, who are returning home in increasingly large numbers, branch offices of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency are being opened in several communities throughout the county, Harry R. Karnaghan, director of the Service Agency, said this morning.

The first of these branches was opened in Ellenville, in the Wayside Inn building, about a month ago. This office is in charge of Lt. Herbert E. Van Keuren and is open from nine a. m. to five p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday each week.

Wednesday this week a branch office was opened on Russell street, Saugerties, by Gordon F. Irvine, assistant service director. Mr. Irvine will be at the office Wednesday of each week, from ten a. m. to four p. m.

Other offices will be opened in Wallkill and Highland, with Mr. Irvine in charge. The Wallkill office will be opened Saturday and open every Saturday thereafter, from nine a. m. to 12 noon.

The Highland office will be opened next week, in the town hall. It will be open every Tuesday, with Mr. Irvine there from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

These branch offices will offer to veterans the same service that is given at the main office at 230 Fair street, Kingston. These services include having veterans discharge certificates recorded and a file established for each veteran. The agency checks and handles all public benefits available to the veteran, either those direct from the federal, state or county governments, or those obtainable through affiliated organizations.

Director Karnaghan said that high-lighting the Agency's work at the present time is the giving of educational and vocational guidance and securing benefits in those fields to the discharged veteran, under the direction of Waldron Duford, counselor. The agency is placing around 50 veterans a month in educational or vocational fields, it was stated.

The agency also is handling an increasingly large number of applications for pensions, for both veterans and their dependents.

Americans Scoop Up Huge Fortunes In Japanese Vault

Yanks Also Take Move to Stamp Out Jap
Narcotics Gangs;
Arms Seized

Tokyo, Oct. 18 (AP)—Huge, hidden Japanese fortunes in diamonds and precious metals were scooped up today by American occupation forces, who moved at the same time to stamp out one of Japan's great sources of wealth—the illicit narcotics industry.

Allied headquarters froze narcotics stocks in Japan and Korea and banned production of narcotics-yielding plants, estimating by that one move to have cut off more than 90 per cent of the world's illicit narcotics traffic.

As a precautionary measure—possibly in view of the winter of famine and hunger facing the Japanese—American troops in a four-day house-to-house search confiscated more than 20 truck loads of hidden Japanese arms and ammunitions.

Another occupation force check, made by Brig. Gen. Elliot R. Thorpe, chief counter intelligence agency, disclosed that Emperor Hirohito's palace had been practically destroyed during the War, but not by fire-bombing superfortresses as was reported. Thorpe said the palace was razed by fire blown in from buildings burning outside the imperial compound.

More than $30,000,000 worth of dazzling diamonds—largely government owned and many obtained through deceit of the Japanese people—were discovered today in cheap, quart-sized bottles in a safety deposit box.

Investigators uncovered the rich find, millions of dollars worth of gold and silver bullion began moving in two and one-half U. S. Army trucks under armed escort from the bomb-battered government mint to the Bank of Japan.

Movement of the treasure, seized under General MacArthur's orders, will take five days. Japanese laborers will lift the metal on and off the trucks.

Capt. L. Ward, Interlaken, N. Y., and Lt. Col. Emmanuel Franklin, Rockville Centre, N. Y., set up the truck shuttle service for the six-mile run between the mint, badly damaged in superfortress raids, and the bank.

Men of the First (dismounted) Cavalry Division are guarding the trucks en route and armored cars are standing by.

Attlee Asked to Open Palestine to 100,000

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman said today the United States has asked Britain to open Palestine to 100,000 Jewish refugees, but that Prime Minister Attlee did not want to admit that many.

The whole matter, he said, still is under consideration. The President made this disclosure at a news conference at which he also said no additional "Big Three" meeting is contemplated to settle the stalemate which developed from the London Council of Foreign Ministers.

The President said he did not want to push the British unduly in their consideration of further Jewish immigration to Palestine. He said that Attlee didn't want to admit as many as 100,000.

Benedictine Fund Is $179,022; Big Meeting Tonight

Ulster County Towns Will Bring in Reports at Final Meeting
Tonight

Entering into the closing days of the Benedictine Hospital Building Fund Appeal, the Kingston Organization, including the Special Gifts Committee, met again last evening at the municipal auditorium to report an additional $22,626, making a total of $179,022 to date.

The Special Gifts Committee, again forging ahead and rapidly reaching its quota of 65 per cent of the objective of $250,000, reported an additional $16,051, bringing its total to $153,906 to date.

The Kingston Organization reported $6,575 over the previous 24 hours, bringing the general soliciting total to $25,116.

The entire Kingston Organization will report again this evening at 6 o'clock at the municipal auditorium, for what is the final scheduled report meeting. Larger attendance, including many who have made meagre reports so far, is expected to substantially increase the total toward the $250,000 objective.

This evening's meeting will be a special occasion with the various Ulster county towns bringing their reports to Kingston for the first time. Committees of the respective towns have been busily engaged in solicitation during the past week and it is expected that the Ulster county report will be substantial. Together with the Kingston Organization it is expected

Truman Says He Is Happy Lewis Called Off Strikes in Coal Fields

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman said today he was very happy John L. Lewis called off the coal strikes and disclosed that he expects soon to make a statement on wage and price policies.

Mr. Truman noted at a news conference that Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers, ended the strikes as a matter of public interest. Then, he observed that there would be very little trouble if everybody acted in the same interest.

Tomorrow, the President said, he expects to discuss the wage-price situation with the cabinet. He may have an announcement afterwards on policy.

Mr. Truman mentioned the forthcoming statement in replying to a question as to whether he had suggested to War Labor Board members recently the creation of a new agency to formulate wage-price policies.

A series of speeches on wages and prices by Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder, Mr. Truman said, set forth already proclaimed administration views. Snyder indicated that the government favors holding the line on living costs while permitting some rise in wages.

Asked if he favored repeal of the Smith-Connally Labor Act, the President replied it was a matter for Congress. However, he said, when it comes up in Congress he will have an opinion to express on it.

Speculation Is Held

While there was speculation over Lewis' motives in ending the mine stoppages, the government displayed frank relief over the turn of events.

Labor, reconversion and solid fuels officials hopefully assumed that the 216,000 striking bituminous coal miners would return to work next Monday as directed by the United Mine Workers' president.

The strikes, which started September 21 and spread to six states, had threatened to bring reconversion to a grinding halt.

The threat to steel—and thence to autos and a score of basic industries—had been multiplying daily with the loss of more than a million tons with each complete work cycle.

There was little inclination on the part of the government to look behind Lewis' surprise halt order. A U. M. W. spokesman said the action "obviously" was taken "in the public interest."

Considerable speculation existed elsewhere, however. Most labor sources expected that Lewis would renew his demand on the operators for unionization of the supervisory, clerical and technical employees—the issue in the strikes—when he reopened the mines next March 31.

U. S. Has Talked Tougher Than It Has Acted in Reich

United States Directive, Given as Guide for General, Coincides
With Potsdam

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—The United States consistently has talked tougher than it has acted in the control of defeated Germany, a newly-published policy directive disclosed today.

The directive was the first which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower received last April in preparation for establishment of a military government in the part of Germany his forces occupied.

It also was intended to guide the general in working with British, Russian and French members of the Allied Control Council at Berlin.

Like at their Berlin meeting in July, President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin laid down an Allied policy for Germany which for all practical purposes superseded the earlier directive sent to Eisenhower as an expression of American policy alone.

It is true, however, that on any points not covered by the Potsdam Declaration, Eisenhower still may draw his authority from the original Truman order.

In most respects this original order and the Potsdam Declaration coincide in spirit if not in actual words. Both state for example that the fact of their defeat must be brought home to the German people.

Both order in effect that Germany should not have a standard of living higher than that of the surrounding countries in Europe, that the development of farming as a major German occupation should be stressed and that the industrial disarmament of Germany should reach far down into the Reich's industrial life.

Removal of Nazis

Beyond these instructions, American policy was stated to call for the removal of all active Nazis or other persons hostile to the Allies—not only from public office but also "from positions of importance and quasi-public and private enterprises."

Fraternization was sternly frowned upon in the original order.

By contrast, reports from Germany invariably say that practically no industrial equipment has been removed from the American Zone. The ban on fraternization has long since gone by the boards and most informed persons agree that the German people by and large are very popular with individual members of the occupation forces.

With respect to demilitarization and industrial controls the original American directive is quite similar to that of the Potsdam Declaration. It is not as specific, however, in stating that all industrial equipment not needed for a minimum living standard either should be destroyed or removed.

Publication of the original order furnished a vital starting point for what appears to be an incipient controversy over whether the policies set out for weakening Germany should in fact be relaxed to allow that country to revive as an industrial power in Europe.

One Name Missing

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—One name is conspicuously missing from the list of German leaders indicted for major war crimes.

It is mentioned frequently throughout the 25,000-word text of the indictment, however. The name—Adolf Hitler.

The Allied prosecutors who drew up the indictment ventured no guesses as to his current address.

By JOHN M. NIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Allied powers indicted 24 German leaders and six Nazi organizations today on charges of starting the world's greatest war and committing history's most horrible mass crimes of murder, torture, devastation and hate.

The leaders named are former key men in Adolf Hitler's government and top generals and admirals of the German high command. Basically they are accused of a gigantic "plan or conspiracy," dating from 1921, to rule Germany and conquer other lands they wanted. Their strategy: Treachery and terror first, finally a deliberate, aggressive war.

The 25,000 word accusation was drawn for presentation to the four-power war crimes court at Berlin. It is an unprecedented document, it states up in cold legal form Allied fury over Nazi outrages, and it forces the men accused of responsibility to answer for their acts.

The bulk of the indictment is a recital of horrors.

The Nazis and their high command associates are blamed officially for the brutal slaughter of about 10,000,000 helpless persons, civilians and prisoners of war.

About 4,000,000 were slain at Auschwitz concentration camp alone, the indictment says, and another 1,500,000 in notorious Majdanek.

Of 9,600,000 Jews who came under Nazi domination in and out of Germany, the document asserts, 5,700,000 disappeared, "most of them deliberately put to death by Nazi conspirators."

The Nazis and their associates are accused also of torturing civilians to obtain information.

Protective Arrests

Of putting civilians under "protective arrest" in the "most unhealthy and inhuman conditions."

Of mass murders of defenseless people by gassing and shooting, of incredibly cruel "scientific" experiments on women.

Of drawing the blood of children.

Of shooting hostages, ill-treating and murdering war prisoners and

Of murdering or wiping out by wholesale destruction the cities and towns of lands they occupied.

"American prisoners, officers and men, were murdered in Normandy during the summer of 1944 and in the Ardennes in December, 1944," the official document declares.

"American prisoners were starved, beaten and otherwise mistreated in numerous stalags (prison camps), in Germany and in the occupied countries, particularly in 1943, 1944 and 1945."

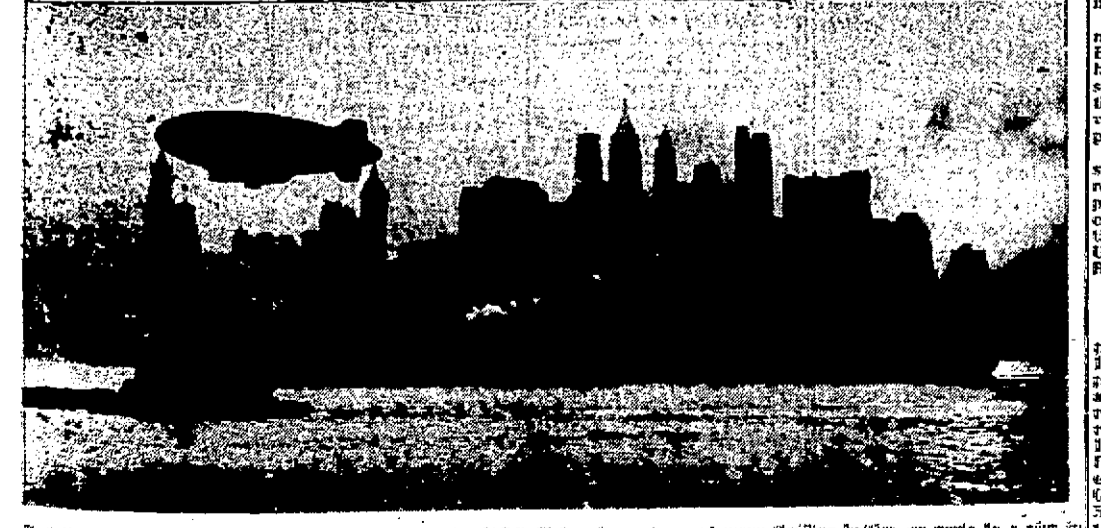

The indictment furnished the basis for proposed trial of German Nazi and military leaders by the Anglo-American-French-Soviet military tribunal at Nuremberg, Germany. It was drawn up by prosecutors of the four Allied nations, including Justice Robert H. Jackson for the United States. It was released simultaneously in the Allied capitals and in Germany.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Straight and Narrow
Kansas City, Oct. 18 (AP)—Miss Emma Lou Hamilton took a cab to a local hospital where she was to assume her duties as a Red Cross gray lady. She paid her fare with what she thought was a $1 bill and hurried in.
Walking through the hall a few minutes later she was confronted by the taxi driver.
"Lady, you gave me a $5 bill and didn't get your change. I had to hunt quite a bit to find you. He then gave her five one dollar bills.
Considering this too much of a good thing, Miss Hamilton pointed out to him that she really desired to pay something for the ride.

Wrong Direction
Logan, Utah, Oct. 18 (AP)—"Put some force behind that block," shouted Burns Crookston, veteran Logan High School football coach. "That's no way to run interference."
Inadvertently Crookston caught the full force of the next block. Now he's hobbling about the football practice field on crutches with one leg in a cast.

Reprieves
Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 18 (AP)—"Gandy" was just a mongrel pup but he was the constant companion of trustees in the Pocatello city jail as they worked on street repairs.
When the city poundmaster announced that the dog would be shot for lack of a dog license, the prisoners pooled their resources and put out $3 for a license.

Warm Reception
Portland, Oct. 18 (AP)—Nobody can say Portland firemen won't take a dare.
A hose truck raced to a suburban home where a fire was reported ablaze. At the door a sign read:
"If you like buckshot, go ahead, break in."
The firemen put duty first, smashed in the door but there was no buckshot welcome. The owner was absent and later explained it was his own idea for protection against robbers.

Well Traveled
San Diego, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—A local hotel has received in the mail a rusted and weatherbeaten key to room 430.
An enclosed note from Navy Lt. R. A. Brown, member of the repair ship Vulcan, stated that he found the key on the beach at Okinawa.

What, No Elephants?
Spokane, Wash., Oct. 18 (AP)—Rushing to investigate a report that a guest was "shooting up" a hotel, Detective Ralph Weir found a 75-year-old man with a pistol and a bottle. There was a bullet hole through the door.
"What were you shooting at?" Weir asked.
"Why," said the gunman, "at them great big colored bugs."

Transfers Must Be Filed by Car Firms

Sellers of used passenger automobiles, rather than purchasers, hereafter will be required to file certificates of transfer with local O.P.A. War Price and Rationing Boards, The Office of Price Administration announced today.

This action becomes effective October 22, 1945.

Filing of the certificates is necessary, the price agency said, to keep a check on prices for used cars.

When gasoline was being rationed, the agency added, it was necessary for the purchaser of an automobile to go to his local rationing board to obtain a gasoline ration book. At the same time, the purchaser usually filed a purchaser's statement in which the price he paid for the car appeared.

With today's action, the purchaser's statement is being abolished, relieving the purchaser of the necessity of making a trip to his ration board.
The same procedure with regard to filing of certificates of transfer by sellers of used commercial motor vehicles and used motorcycles is to be provided by O.P.A. shortly. In the case of used motorcycles, as is now being provided in sales of used passenger automobiles, the purchaser's statement is to be abolished, relieving the purchaser of having to make a trip to his ration board. A purchaser's statement was not required for used commercial motor vehicles.

Radio production hit an all time high of $3,500,000,000 in 1944.

The World Series was broadcast for the first time in 1926.

Ensign Announces Town Sales Aides For Christmas Seals

Names of chairmen appointed to head Christmas Seal Sale committees in each municipality of Ulster county were announced yesterday by Harry S. Ensign, county chairman. Each community will have its own chairman to direct the sale of Seals to raise funds for the health program of the tuberculosis association. The Seal Campaign will be conducted throughout the nation from November 19th to Christmas.

The local chairmen are: Mrs. A. Loren LeFever, Esopus; Mrs. Orson S. Haynes, Hardenburgh; Mrs. Claude Palen, Hurley; Mrs. Glenn Clark, Marlborough; Mrs. Raymond Morris, New Paltz; Mrs. Andrew J. Snyder, Rosendale; Mrs. Edna Longyear, Olive; Mrs. Fabian L. Russell, Saugerties; Mrs. W. H. Cruickshank, Shandaken; Mrs. L. C. Edsall, Shawangunk; Mrs. Dorothy Hoerner, Wawarsing; Mrs. Marion Bullard, Woodstock; Mrs. Gross Schoonmaker, Rochester; Mrs. J. Grand Haviland, Jr., Lloyd; Miss Mary C. Dickman, Marbletown; and Mrs. William Hooker, Ulster.

"I am deeply grateful to these civic leaders for consenting to serve," said Mr. Ensign. "Only with a successful drive in each municipality will sufficient funds be raised in the county to carry on work necessary for the control of tuberculosis."

"Among the activities now supported by the association are: The chest X-ray survey, finding unsuspected cases of tuberculosis early when it can be cured and so protect little children and others from the disease; a full time nutritionist, serving at Child Welfare consultations and with other groups; assistance to patients and clinics at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital; distribution of health education material used in nutrition and in the prevention program of tuberculosis, venereal and other diseases. If we are to meet our postwar health problems, this program must be expanded in 1946."

"All local chairmen will be contacted in the near future to plan details of the drive," he continued. "I am confident that we shall again be able to count on the support of local clubs and organizations in interpreting to the community the meaning of the Christmas Seal."

Potatoes are a good investment in health and energy as well as flavor. Potatoes are all around family favorites and fit into any meal. Eat more energy—give them a try. Potatoes are economical, easy to cook, and delicious. Serve them fried, boiled, mashed, baked, creamed, or roasted. Here are two "different" ways to serve them.

Potatoes Maitre D'Hotel
Peel and cook six medium-sized potatoes in boiling salted water for 20 minutes, or until tender. Melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine in a small saucepan, add 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, 1/4 cup minced parsley, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. When the potatoes are done, drain them, pour the sauce over them and shake or turn carefully with a spoon until coated with sauce. Serve as soon as possible. Yield: 6 portions.

Scalloped Potatoes
8 cups sliced, pared 4 cups well-seasoned potatoes 1/2 inch thin white sauce thick 2 cups butter 2 cups thinly sliced or margarine perched onions
Arrange alternate layers of the potatoes, onions, white sauce, and butter in a greased 2-quart covered casserole or baking dish.

Having potatoes as the top layer: Cover the casserole and bake in a moderately hot oven (400° F.) for 30 minutes. Then remove the cover of the casserole and bake 45 minutes longer, or until the potatoes are tender and a golden brown crust has formed on top. Serve 6. To serve 2 or 3, make half this recipe.

You will want to know all the delicious ways potatoes can be served. For breakfast, lunch, and dinner. I have an interesting collection of over 100 potato recipes for every rural, all yours for the asking. Just send in the coupon.

If you put in Du Pont anti-freeze
You'll never have to worry,
'Cause freeze-ups will not bust your car—
But, man, you'd better hurry

Du Pont warns all car owners to get anti-freeze protection before it's too late. This year a freeze-up can be more than an inconvenience. It may be the "death" of your car. Engine blocks, radiators, and cylinder heads are still hard to get and always expensive.

Have your dealer check the cooling system thoroughly. It pays to stop leaks, replace rotted hose connections, clean a clogged radiator or repair other defects before they cause trouble. Avoid a last-minute rush. Give your dealer time to perform this needed cooling system service.

$1.40 a gal. War Emergency "Zerone" gives thorough protection against rust and corrosion as well as freezing. Until regular "Zerone" comes back (this season's production went to war), there's no better buy at the price. Remember, it's made by Du Pont.

$2.65 a gal. A limited supply of "Zerex," Du Pont's non-evaporating anti-freeze, is now available. "Zerex" won't boil out. One filling lasts all winter. Nothing to worry about. Gives complete protection against rust and corrosion—won't form sludge or clog radiators.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 18, 1945

SEVENTY-FOUR YEARS OLD

The Kingston Daily Freeman is seventy-four years old today, having made its first appearance on October 18, 1871.

The history of The Freeman and its predecessors in direct line reach back a long way in the annals of Ulster County. The Daily Freeman was the natural outgrowth of the Weekly Freeman, which was established in May, 1860. The Kingston Journal which became a part of The Freeman had been established earlier, antedating the Weekly Freeman by twenty years.

From a small paper, The Freeman has grown in size and influence. Loyal Ulster County men and women serving our country in all parts of the world read The Freeman during the trying days of the global war.

On this anniversary we are happy to report that we are still fulfilling our mission of chronicling the contemporary history of the community.

Few people who contribute to the news columns of The Freeman are aware that they are contemporary historians. They are reporting the events of community life for posterity, and generations hence will read the story they have told and from the struggles of this day they will gain inspiration for the struggles of their day. The newspaper preserves the story of our ideals, our problems and those who contribute to the news columns of their local newspaper are therefore doing a valuable service for those who follow in their wake.

Those of us who live in modern surroundings are apt sometimes to forget the sacrifices of those who made the community what it is today. Men have worked and schemed and planned and today we have modern conveniences. These things did not come about by chance or by natural evolution. They came about because men toiled ceaselessly to leave behind them a better world than that into which they came. Their devotion, their struggles, their ideals, their initiative and determination should be an inspiration to succeeding generations.

REPUBLICAN COUNCIL

In another column of this page appear the names of Republican candidates for the office of Alderman in the thirteen wards of the City of Kingston. These men are qualified to look after the interests of their own ward as well as the interests of the people of the city at large.

The Common Council is the legislative branch of the city government and it is very important that it be comprised of men who are qualified to hold the office of Alderman. Many important questions come up during the year which have to be acted upon by members of the council.

Several of the Republican candidates this Fall are seeking re-election as members of the Board of Aldermen. These candidates are men of proven ability and their experience gained in the service of the city in the legislative branch makes them valuable. They should be retained in office.

The Republican candidates who are seeking to serve for the first time have been chosen wisely and they will be real representatives of their wards.

AMERICAN FAMILY

One of our presidents is brought to mind by the announcement that Webb C. Hayes II has been made commodore in the naval reserve. An Annapolis graduate, Hayes has been head of the Washington naval recruiting station and captain of the troopship West Point.

Hayes' grandfather, the president, Rutherford B. Hayes, entered office under a cloud of a disputed election. Millions of his countrymen believed that his competitor, Samuel J. Tilden, had been elected, and even today historians differ. Despite this handicap Hayes became, after Cleveland, one of the outstanding presidents in the era between Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. He deserved a second term, but like Polk and Buchanan remained firm in his resolve not to seek re-election.

His son, Webb C. Hayes, won the Congress-

FREEDOM FOR SCIENCE

In all the discussion over science now taking place in Congress, the very serious danger is already evident that government is about to harness science to its political chariot as it has already harnessed industry. Science cannot, however, become political. Neither a molecule nor an atom can be created by Act of Congress. Science, to serve mankind, must be free—free even to make very serious blunders, for out of the errors and blunders of science, and even the attendant casualties among scientists, may come the truth.

And that is why it is so difficult for politicians to understand science; their objectives are so different. The politician seeks power and authority; the scientist seeks only the truth. I am not speaking of the skilled tinkers who apply the laws of nature uncovered by science to practical applications. It is to pure science that I refer to scholarship, man's noblest pursuit. And scholarship has only to do with the search for the truth. It can have no other purpose.

There can be no politics in the truth. There cannot be a New Deal truth and a Republican truth; there cannot be an American truth and a Russian truth. Truth is the same at all times and all places. It never changes, no matter what anyone may do about it. It is not comparative; it is absolute. As President Hutchins of Chicago University so keenly and accurately stated it:

"One purpose of education is to draw out the elements of our common human nature. These elements are the same in any time or place. The notion of educating a man to live in any particular time or place, to adjust him to any particular environment, is therefore foreign to a true conception of education."

"Education implies teaching. Teaching implies knowledge. Knowledge is truth. The truth is everywhere the same."

This country has suddenly become conscious of the function of pure science because of the sensational use of the atomic bomb in the war against Japan. The principal work on that bomb was done by scientists in university laboratories in search of universal truth. They did not labor to produce a bomb to kill people; they labored to learn the nature of the atom. Dr. Irving Langmuir stated the case fully to a committee of Congress when he said:

"The unhampered, free search for truth which was permitted in universities provided the favorable conditions under which such fundamental research progressed. Without such a foundation no planning board could have brought the atomic bomb into existence."

Had anyone set out to produce such a bomb, he probably could never have done it. Yet, Albert Einstein, working out mathematical formulae, helped to lay the foundation for the researches which ultimately produced the bomb. Nor was Dr. Lise Meitner, nor Dr. Otto Hahn nor Dr. Enrico Fermi, nor any of the other scientists who contributed to the knowledge of the properties of the Uranium atom, seeking a bomb to destroy anything or anybody. Apart from their search for knowledge and the truth, they had no objective. That is scholarship—the search for knowledge for its own sake.

Dr. Langmuir in his statement to Congress said that "The Kilgore bill . . . aims at an essentially political control of science. . . ." He prefers the Magnuson bill now before Congress but proposed that half the members of the board to stimulate scientific development under government auspices be nominated "either by the National Academy of Sciences or by any group of scientists that really represent other scientists of America."

Dr. Langmuir was modest. Why should not the entire board of a scientific organization, even if financed by government appropriations, be nominated or elected by scientists? What do the politicians know about it anyhow? What would Senator Kilgore, who has proposed some of the most curious legislation, know about it? How many politicians could understand what these scholars are talking about? Or is it necessary to put on the board a few lame-duck congressmen, a couple of C.I.O. organizers and a fence-sitting Republican to make sure that Congress will appropriate the funds to maintain the American leadership in the realm of pure science?

THAT BODY OF YOURS

PAIN UNDER BREAST BONE

When a severe pain occurs under the breast bone, goes across the chest into left shoulder and arm, it is called angina pectoris, and as it occurs often in heart disease (coronary thrombosis) it is only natural for the patient to feel that he is having a heart attack. Because it really may be a heart attack it is good sense to remain as quiet as possible until the doctor arrives.

However there are a number of ailments or conditions that cause severe pain in the region—a common one being gas pressure in stomach against the heart. The stomach lies exactly beneath the heart and gas pressure in the stomach against the diaphragm (floor of chest) and so against the heart. This is why so many get relief from gas pressure in the stomach by passing gas from the mouth.

Another common cause of angina pectoris is disease of the gall bladder. An inflamed gall bladder, or even a stone in the gall bladder, can cause gas pressure in the stomach against the heart. This gas pressure in the stomach against the diaphragm (floor of chest) and so against the heart. This is why so many get relief from gas pressure in the stomach by passing gas from the mouth.

In Wisconsin Medical Journal, Dr. A. L. Tatum states that powerful emotion also leads to spasm of the digestive organs—stomach, gall bladder, small intestine—which in turn causes a restriction or narrowing of the blood vessels carrying blood to the heart. It is lack of blood rich in oxygen that is the immediate cause of angina pectoris.

Why Worry About Your Heart?

Nowadays it is so easy to ascertain whether or not your heart is normal or abnormal that you should not worry about it but find out its condition. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet entitled "Why Worry About Your Heart?" enclosing ten cents and a three-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing. They Were So Unreasonable

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Old John Barleycorn died—officially at least—at midnight Friday, January 16, 1920, when the 18th Amendment to the Constitution went into effect. While there may have been mourners at his demise, the Kingston police did not find any so filled to the brim with his spirit that an arrest was necessary.

The 18th Amendment, before it was repealed some years later, was dubbed "the noble experiment."

The annual high school A.A. minstrel show was presented in the school auditorium on February 27, 1920, before a large audience. Webster Crane was interactor. While the endmen were George Allen, Robert Adams, Laurence Goldberg, James Winters, Charles O'Reilly and Clifford Sears.

Soloists, in addition to the endmen, were Randolph Veyant, William Murray, Edward Gross, Solomon Rodney and Edna Markle. There were also dances by Marion Heffern, Muriel Oliver, Helen McNelis and Katherine Kearney.

Frank McNelly died February 17, 1920, in his home, 578 Broadway, aged 70 years. He had been employed for 28 years as bookkeeper by the Turck Lumber Co., and for some years prior to his death had conducted a stationery and cigar store at 580 Broadway.

Griffin A. Hart, for some years one of the leading dry goods merchants of Kingston, died on February 12, 1920, in his home on Fair street, aged 77 years. He retired from active business in September, 1919, after being engaged in business for 45 years in one store on Wall street.

Mr. Hart, when 18 years of age came to Kingston, and clerked for a time in the store of A. K. Chambers on the Strand. In 1887 he entered the employ of J. F. Jennings and Broadhead, on Wall street. This store stood on the present site of the Woolworth store. He was working but a short time when he enlisted in the old 120th Regiment and served through the Civil War.

At the close of the war he returned to Kingston and became a clerk in the James O. Merritt, Broadhead and Co. store on Wall street. He remained with the company until 1888, when he entered into partnership with Benson Bros. in the grocery business, and the firm name was changed to Benson Bros. and Hart. He continued in the grocery business until 1874, when he embarked in the dry goods business on Wall street, under the firm name of Benson, Hart and Hubbard.

In 1881 the firm name was changed to Benson and Hart, and in 1888 it became G. A. Hart and Co., which name it retained until Mr. Hart retired in 1919.

After 40 years in business the wholesale flour and feed business of F. H. Griffiths at 48 Hackbush avenue, closed its doors on February 4, 1920. The business had been carried on for 15 years by John W. Griffiths, son of F. H. Griffiths.

The business was established by Robert R. Kerr, and was taken over by F. H. Griffiths and George A. Kerr, a few years later. When Mr. Kerr retired from the firm, the business was continued by F. H. Griffiths until 1920, when he turned the reins over to John W. Griffiths.

F. H. Griffiths, if memory serves me right, erected Griffiths Hall on lower Hackbush avenue. I recall that during the winter of 1918-20, that the Kingston Athletic Club held a number of smokers in the hall.

Many fighters of the Hudson valley appeared in bouts at the hall. Among them were Vince Coffey of this city and Wild Willie Chynal of Newburgh.

John Costello of this city was the matchmaker for the club, and he had the knack of matching the fighters so that the fans saw interesting and well fought battles. Mr. Costello for a number of years served the city as city marshal.

Fuelifer Tom J. Cushing, of Tipperary, Eire, seems to be the original Man-of-War. Now home on leave before joining the British forces in Burma, he has been in every war since 1922, the last including: With Chiang Kai-shek in China; with International Brigade in Spain; in the Nicaraguan War; served as instructor in Bolivia; joined the International Brigade before outbreak of World War II. Cushing was captured near Lille in 1940 and with three escapes to his credit was sent to Dachau.

Senate Committee Begins at Wrong End of United Command Problem

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 18—The Senate Military Affairs Committee has started off at the wrong end of the controversy over the single department of national defense.

Instead of examining into the efficiency or inefficiency of the Army, Navy and Air Forces in the war just ended, it presupposes that the system of unification which has been in existence has been a success and that consolidation into one department is a lesson of the war.

Actually the truth has not been revealed. Only a thorough investigation of the way the war was fought, the top-heaviness of the War Department, the waste of manpower due to the cumbersome organization and the vast amount of duplication insisted upon by the Army Air Forces—can bring out the whole story.

The slogan widely publicized—namely, the "single department of national defense"—is only a cloak for the studied efforts of high-ranking officers and some of their civilian allies to introduce in America a form of military dictatorship.

The American people have never before been seriously urged or asked to place complete control of the military and naval forces in the hands of a single individual. Wherever this has been tried in the world, it has been proved to be a breeder of suspicion and distrust. The constitution of the United States speaks of any one commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy. It speaks of two services—the Army and the Navy. There is no constitutional right to combine them or eliminate either one.

Most of the talk about a single department plays upon the idea that there will be a consolidation, but actually what is sought is a separation into three major armed services—the ground, the air and the naval forces. Each of these is to be coordinated with the other and one man is supposed to decide how they shall be utilized—and he is not to be elected head of the nation.

The public has been led to believe that the system of an overall commander has been a success. Secretary Patterson speaks of Eisenhower, Nimitz, and MacArthur as successful "supreme commanders." Each of these men has received a vast amount of favorable publicity and each is a conscientious commander, but the mistakes made by subordinates on the staff of their respective commands have not been revealed yet.

There has been a tendency to hush up the friction that went on during the war. Actually the friction developed when the Army and Navy and Air Forces were employed on a large scale in the Pacific. In Europe, General Eisenhower, except for a brief interval, didn't have any responsibility for naval operations and in that sense really was not a commander of all forces. He certainly didn't command the forces in Italy or on the Russian front, and it will be recalled that the British and American naval staffs commanded the naval operations during the largest part of the war in the Atlantic and in the Mediterranean.

As for the Pacific, the friction between members of General MacArthur's staff and the Navy is well known. A thorough inquiry into what happened at Leyte would be enlightening. Likewise the story of Okinawa has never been fully told. Admiral Nimitz, with chivalrous concern for his fellow commanders in the Army, assumed full responsibility for what happened there, but in doing so he made a serious mistake. For no naval admiral can tell an Army general how to fight a land war, and if the wrong Army general is selected for an assignment that must necessarily be the responsibility of the chief of the Army in Washington rather than of any commander of combined operations overseas.

The strategy of the war has resulted in victory. Despite the blunders made, Okinawa was won and so was Leyte. But the Congress ought to look into what happened in the Pacific, and it decides that "unification" was a great success. It is politic and tactful for Admiral Halsey and General MacArthur and others to speak of the "teamwork" in the Pacific. In a broad sense it was there, but it is also true that the specialized Marine Corps, the specialized Army Air Forces, the specialized Naval Air Forces all played a separate part. To consolidate them is to forfeit their special values and diminish the efficiency of our fighting strength. To coordinate them under a U. S. joint chiefs of staff is to integrate the three groups, but this does not need a single military dictator or a single department.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

WALTER L. FOSTER

Walter L. Foster of 58 Andrew street is the Republican candidate for alderman in the Ninth Ward.

Mr. Foster has lived in the Ninth Ward practically his entire life and has seen the many changes that have occurred in the expansion of residential and business areas, and consequently, he is most familiar with the needs of the people in his district.

Mr. Foster is a graduate of St. Peter's Parochial School and also of Kingston High School. Planning a business career, he successfully pursued a business course at the Spencer's Business School with honors. Following this, he entered the employ of the local office of the Nitro Powder Company as an office assistant, from whence he became an employee of the New York Central Railroad Company as a clerk in the freight office. While employed by the railroad, he joined the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and upon recognizing his talents, the members of the union elected him to the office of financial secretary which office he held until he terminated his employment with the railroad. During his term of office in the union, he was instrumental in accomplishing many reforms for the welfare of his fellow employees. In 1929, he became associated with the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston, where by his devotion to duty and honesty in his efforts, he was rewarded with several promotions and at the present time, is serving as the assistant cashier.

Fraternally he is a member of St. Peter's Holy Name Society, council representative of the St. Peter's Boy Scout Committee, member of Kingston Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, having served in the various chairs terminating with a successful term as its head in the office of the local council. Knights of Columbus, also serving in various offices, and at present serving his eleventh term as financial secretary. Again the attendance with which his association has been shown in this important office which is the most responsible of each council of the Knights of Columbus.

Civil affairs have always interested Mr. Foster.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

October 18, 1925—Joseph Campbell, 21, a stranger, fell from the center of the Rondout Creek Bridge where he had climbed to take a nap directly in front of an auto crossing the bridge. The car was stopped before it hit him, and he was rushed to the Kingston Hospital where it was found both legs had been fractured.

The Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church burned mortgage on edifice at impressive ceremonies. Charles J. Marabell and Miss Marjorie Gertrude Kolb married. Edward Smodes of Kingston and Miss Jennie Whitaker of Saugerties, married in Saugerties.

October 18, 1935—The registration of voters for the first three days in city totaled 11,048. Mrs. Martin D. Osterhout died in her home on Grand street. Police board decided to award silver bars to the members of the police department who had qualified as marksmen. The village of Highland was threatened with a water shortage.

Fragments of pottery bearing reproduction of various types of tomato plants have been found in the burial mounds and graves of the Indian and pre-Indian races which bears out the contention that tomatoes originated in Peru.

Allies Indict 24 Nazis for Crimes

ants were the highest in Adolf Hitler's Nazi government to be taken alive. Among them are Hermann Goering, Rudolf Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Robert Ley, all key Hitler officials, Generals Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl; Admirals Karl Doenitz and Eric Raeder; Industrialist Gustav Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach; Flancier Hjalmar Schacht.

Against most of them the indictment makes (1) Crimes against humanity, (2) Crimes against peace in starting war, (3) War crimes in violation of the accepted laws of war, (4) Crimes against humanity which includes the Jewish persecutions, and (5) Conspiring together to commit these crimes.

After these four general counts are laid down with details of supporting evidence, the names of the individuals are listed together with specific counts on which each is to be tried.

Organizations indicted are Hitler's old Reich cabinet, the German general staff and high command, the leadership corps of the Nazi party, the S.S. organization (a police and military outfit), the Gestapo (dread secret police), and the S.A. (a police and military training organization).

The previously announced intention of the prosecution is to prove these to be criminal organizations so that any person legally found to be a member would be convicted automatically as a criminal. Thus, the prosecutors hope to shorten the trials of hundreds, perhaps thousands, of Germans yet to be indicted.

Today's indictment traces the great Nazi conspiracy from the emergence of Hitler as a political leader in 1921, through his election as chancellor of the German republic in 1933 and his suppression of all opposition in Germany immediately thereafter. The Nazi party is described as "the central core" of the conspiracy.

Three General Aims

Three aims are attributed to the Nazis:

To destroy the Treaty of Versailles and its restrictions on German military power.

To regain German territories lost in World War I and other European territories occupied by "racial Germans" such as the Sudetenland, and

To acquire "living space" in Europe and elsewhere.

"The aims and purposes of the Nazi conspirators were not fixed or static," the indictment declared, "but evolved and expanded as they acquired progressively greater power and became able to make more effective application of threats of aggressive war."

Thus the Nazis—consolidating their power inside Germany through suppression of liberties, persecutions of Jews and other means—progressed to the point where in 1936-39 they took over Austria and Czechoslovakia and invaded Poland, "thus precipitating war with the United Kingdom and France."

It was but a matter of time then until all the Allied world, including the United States, was drawn into the conflict.

American entry as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is linked to the German-Japanese-Italian military alliance and to the fact that after Japan struck Germany declared war on this country.

"By reason of all the foregoing," the indictment states, "the defendants with divers other persons, are guilty of a common plan or conspiracy for the accomplishment of crimes against peace; of a conspiracy to commit crimes against humanity in the course of preparation for war and in the course of prosecution of the war; and of a conspiracy to commit war crimes not only against the armed forces of their enemies but also against non-belligerent civilian populations."

Country by Country

The indictment takes up these war crimes and crimes against humanity country by country, including the pre-war persecutions of Christians, Jews and political opponents of the Nazis in Germany itself. It declares:

"The Nazis murdered amongst others: Chancellor Dollfus (of Austria), the Social Democrat (Dr. Rudolf) Breitscheid and the Communist (Ernst) Thaelmann."

"The Nazis reported on September 14, 1944, that Breitscheid, former editor of the newspaper Der Dozialist, and Thaelmann, German Communist leader, were killed in Buchenwald concentration camp by Allied bombs. (Previously radio Atlantik, German language station operated by the British, said the two were killed September 11, 1944, on order of Heinrich Himmler.)"

"They (the Nazis) imprisoned in concentration camps numerous political and religious personages, for example Chancellor Schuschnigg (of Austria) and pastor Niemoller of Germany."

"In November 1938 by orders of the chief of the Gestapo, anti-Jewish demonstrations all over Germany took place. Jewish property was destroyed, 30,000 Jews were arrested and sent to concentration camps and their property confiscated. Among other mass murders of Jews were the following:

"Two thousand were shot in an anti-tank ditch at Mineralne Vodi. Four thousand, three hundred other Jews were shot in the same ditch. Sixty thousand Jews were shot on an island on the Dvina near Riga. Twenty thousand Jews were shot at Nizhny. Thirty-two thousand Jews were shot at Sarny. Sixty thousand Jews were shot at Kiev and Dnepropetrovsk. Thousands of Jews were gassed weekly by means of gas-walks which broke down from overwork."

"Fantastic forms of torture are set forth in the indictment:

"Bad treatment, pseudo-scientific experiments, sterilization of women at Auschwitz, and at Ravensbrueck, study of the evolution of cancer of the womb at Auschwitz, of tumors at Buchenwald, anatomical research at Natzweiler, heart injections at Buchenwald, bone grafting and muscular excisions at Ravensbrueck, etc.) gas chambers, gas wagons and crematory ovens."

"In the Ganov camp 200,000 peaceful citizens were exterminated. The most refined methods of cruelty were employed in this extermination, such as discarding bodies in tubs of water; mass shootings took place to the accompaniment of the music of an orchestra recruited from the persons interned."

"In the Ozarichl region of Bielorussia, the indictment says, the Germans set up three concentration camps without shelter, and placed in them tens of thousands of persons. They then added people from typhus hospitals intentionally for the purpose of infecting the other persons interned and for spreading the disease in territories from which the Germans were being driven by the Red army."

Among dozens of other murder centers listed in Russia is mentioned the Crimea where "peaceful citizens were gathered on barges, taken out to sea and drowned, over 144,000 persons being exterminated in this manner."

"Along with adults," the indictment says, "the Nazi conspirators mercilessly destroyed even children. They killed them with their parents in groups and alone. They killed them in children's homes and hospitals, burying the living in the graves, throwing them into flames, stabbing them with bayonets, poisoning them, conducting experiments upon them, extracting their blood for the use of the German army, throwing them into prison and Gestapo torture chambers and concentration camps where the children died from hunger, torture and epidemic diseases."

The indictment says the Germans carried out to slave labor many millions of citizens from the occupied countries and forced prisoners of war into work contrary to the provisions of the Geneva convention. France suffered heavily in this way and the number of Russian citizens deported to slavery was put at about 4,000,000.

France and Russia also lost most heavily—since they were the largest countries wholly or partly occupied—to Nazi plunderers. France lost in plunder 237,020,024,000 francs ($5,140,400,480) of private wealth and 55,000,100,000 francs ($1,100,002,000) in state owned wealth. Russia's total material loss due to plunder and destruction was put at $75,000,000,000 rubles ($36,560,700,000 at the current diplomatic exchange rate.)

Indian Troops Will Attempt Rescue of Red Cross Group

Batavia, Java, Oct. 18 (AP)—A British convoy arrived tonight off the Java port of Semarang carrying Indian troops who will be sent after dawn to rescue Red Cross and relief personnel beleaguered by Japanese nationals.

Lt. Col. J. A. Melsop announced the arrival at Allied headquarters and said more British troops were embarking in Malaya for Sumatra, another rich Dutch island, where there may be "violent disturbances."

Mohamed Hatta, vice president of the Nationalist Indonesian Council, said the organization had rejected the Dutch proposal for partnership in ruling the Netherlands East Indies. He asserted that many years of bloodshed would result should the Dutch impose armed rule in the colony.

Churka troops took over the Indies summer capital of Sandong from the Japanese last night, Col. Melsop said. Moving from Batavia, which remained quiet, the troops encountered numerous road blocks, some manned by the Nationalists. All were removed. The colonel said the Japanese cooperated "perfectly" in passing control to the British, charged with occupation of the colony for the Allies as a result of the Japanese surrender.

Parts of Sumatra always have been difficult for Dutch rulers. The Dutch fought battles with natives in North Sumatra until as late as 1904.

Restated Five Demands
Hatta restated five demands he said had been made upon Lt. Gen. A. F. Christison, allied commander in the Netherlands East Indies. They were:

End of the Netherlands Indies civil administration.
Recognition of Soekarno's administration.
No further landings by Dutch troops.

Removal of all Dutch troops and restriction of Allied occupation troops to the job of liberating prisoners of war and internees and disarming the Japanese.

Hatta spoke in the absence of Soekarno who is touring the country in an effort to restrain his more extreme followers.

(Hatta's statement as heard in London over the Bandoeng radio said: "Why should Indonesia be a partner in a commonwealth in which the Dutch tail will wag the Indonesian dog?" He charged that pre-war Dutch officials in Java were "Nazi-minded.")

Meanwhile chaotic conditions in Java present a hodgepodge of contradictions.

The Dutch control the governor-general's palace; but the Indonesians control almost all the other government buildings and personnel.

The Indonesian ministers live in impressive villas guarded by armed Indonesian soldiers dressed in gray uniforms with red and white insignia.

British, Dutch, Indonesians and ever Japanese police patrol the streets.

Until a few days ago Japanese soldiers "guarded" a detachment of the United States Army Air Transport Command in Central Java where the American flag flies.

Besides 54,000 Japanese soldiers under arms throughout Java, there still are 15,000 Japanese civilians in Batavia alone.

Only about 5,000 Dutch have landed.

Americans Scoop Up Huge Fortunes In Japanese Vault

save it from loss during American bombings.

Another $1,000,000 worth of silver was found a few days previously, cached in an underground room near a machine shop at Haratsuka, about 100 miles from Tokyo.

Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese Christian leader, urged General MacArthur to divert part of the more than $250,000,000 in government valuables already seized to Japan.

Kagawa said if part of the treasure could be used to pay for the importing of rice, salt, raw cotton and other scarce commodities, "I believe this could prove to be the greatest thing for the happiness of the Japanese people."

Addressing MacArthur through a letter to the newspaper Mainichi, Kagawa added:

"It goes without saying that the Japanese people will endeavor their best to faithfully carry out reparations but the suffering of war victims actually is greater than one imagines."

The fortune in diamonds, totaling 131,000 karats in weight, was found in the Mitsui Trust Company vaults, deposited in the name of a Japanese government import and export control agency.

Many of the diamonds had been contributed by civilians who were told they were needed for industrial usage. Obviously the greater part of the diamonds never was used for that purpose. Possibly the gems were intended for use as trading material with Germany and other nations had the war continued.

Some of the gems probably were obtained abroad, as the same type of campaign for them was conducted by the Japanese overseas.

The same government control agency also has 33,000 karats of diamonds in value at Osaka considerable gold and nearly 250 pounds of platinum in various parts of Tokyo.

The discovery came shortly after another fortune in diamonds, belonging to Japanese admirals, was found in a package hidden in a chicken coop atop a mountain 160 miles north of Tokyo.

The movement of the gold from the mint is part of a plan to gather all government precious metals in Bank of Japan vaults in Tokyo and Osaka, pending instructions from Washington as to the disposition.

Soldiers of the First (dismounted) Cavalry Division looked on as Japanese crews lugged the gold to the trucks, beginning at 8:30 a. m.

The 12-truck convoy had arrived with sirens clearing the narrow dirt road leading to the mint building. The mint was heavily damaged by B-29 raids. Lt. Joseph E. Bergh, 24, of Stratford, Conn., in charge of a 35-man guard, opened the gates for the advance group.

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, an advisor to the throne, told the newspaper Asahi today that Emperor Hirohito is watching with "great concern" the trend of American public opinion on the question of his possible abdication.

"His Majesty, who accepted the Potsdam Declaration, has a grave responsibility for the faithful execution of the terms of the declaration," Konoye said, "and considers his Majesty cannot leave the throne before the obligation is discharged."

Woodstock News

Woodstock, Oct. 18.—The job of painting the inside of the Post Office has been completed. La Monte Simpkins, who has been ill, is around again and able to attend his business at the insurance office. Technical Sgt. Douglas Frankling is in Woodstock, and has been honorably discharged from the service. He saw service in the Chinese theatre of war and was for a long time stationed in India. He was at one time a senior gunner on a B-29. Harry MacDaniel observed a birthday October 17. A number of congratulations were received, and a party which was confined to the relatives was held on the evening of the 17th. A witches dance and buffet Halloween party will be held at the Country Club. Also there will be a fun-making program which will be participated in by young and old. Children and young people are requested to come early. A dinner at some restaurant either in Woodstock or some outside village is being planned by the Square Club, but definite arrangements have not been perfected. It will probably be the latter part of November. Renovation and a general house cleaning will soon be undertaken at the old Press building. Equipment there was recently taken over by Edward R. Perkins. Mrs. Charles Duffy, who is at present in Galveston, Texas, writes home to say that swimming in the gulf is a daily occurrence and that often the thermometer reaches 110. Louise Holstrom has returned to Woodstock. Jack Feeley of the Merchant Marines is spending some time in Woodstock at his home. A problem that has attracted much adverse comment here during the last week is the desertion of cats by summer residents who return to the city. The animals in many instances are left to starve.

Ripping Reunion Awaits Fletchers

Kansas City, Oct. 18 (AP)—It is bound to be a "ripping" reunion for the Eustace Fletcher family of London, England when they get together today in Hutchinson, Kan., for the first time in five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher arrived in Kansas City yesterday and were greeted by their son, Nigel, 17, a wartime evacuee. Nigel and his two sisters, Patricia, 15 and Jacqueline, 11, were sent to Hutchinson in 1940 to live at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Oswald so that they might escape the Nazi bombing of London.

It was "jolly well rugged waiting" said Fletcher as he greeted his son at the Union Station. "You know five years is a pipping long time."

"You ain't just a kiddin'," agreed Nigel as he embraced his attractive middle-aged mother. The reunion is occurring in the midwest rather than in London because Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher are considering moving to America instead of asking their three children to return to London.

The Fletchers wouldn't discuss the probability of their staying in America beyond the father's query: "Remember the dining room suite, son? We're bringing that over if we can arrange to stay. We're practically Americans right now."

The two sisters remained in Hutchinson where the family will celebrate Jacqueline's birthday today.

O.P.A. Refuses Real Estate Bid On Rent Controls

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—Nothing doing: That's O.P.A.'s answer to a proposal by the National Association of Real Estate Boards that rent controls be lifted on dwellings which rent for $75 or more a month.

It was turned down cold by Price Administrator Chester Bowles, who called it "fantastic."

The association noted in a letter to Bowles that the U.S. Emergency Court of Appeals had set aside regulations on housing which rents for $100 or more per month in the New York defense-rental area.

The court's decision said the regulations prevented owners of such housing from realizing a net income as great as in 1939, which the court concluded was the last normal pre-war year.

This same reasoning applied to rentals of $75 and up, the real estate association contended.

"Controls will be removed in a reasonable and orderly manner, and not because of pressures from selfish interests," Bowles said in a statement last night.

Lt. Richard E. McConnell, U. S. A., Marries Joyce O'Brien at St. Bernard's White Plains

The wedding of Miss Joyce O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Thurston O'Brien of 6 Idlewood road, White Plains, to Lieut. Richard E. McConnell, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McConnell of 208 Clinton avenue, took place Sunday at St. Bernard's Church, White Plains. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin Roth of St. John's Church, White Plains, formerly of St. Mary's Church, this city. He was assisted by the Right Rev. Msgr. John Corrigan of Mount St. Ignace, Staten Island, formerly of St. Bernard's Church; the Rev. Thomas G. Phillips, pastor of St. Bernard's and the Rev. Thomas P. Cahill.

Miss Peggy Cunningham of Chicago, Ill., sang, "Mater Maria Graciosa," and Schubert's "Ave Maria." The altar of the church was banked with white chrysanthemums and palms.

The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a white satin gown designed with sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, gathered bodice and full skirt terminating in a long train. Her finger ring was attached to the headpiece of a Venetian lace. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and hollyhocks.

Miss Dorothy Wade of White Plains was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Mary Geach, White Plains, and Charlotte Steber of Oak Park, Ill., a former college classmate of the bride. They all wore American Beauty velvet Victorian gowns fashioned with high necklines, long sleeves and draped skirts with bustles. Headpieces and muffs of shaded blue ostrich tips completed their costumes.

Lieut. Walter Gelin, U. S. A., of West Virginia served as best man. Ushers were Lieutenants Frank Laboon and Robert Barr, both of U. S. A.

Mrs. O'Brien, the mother of the bride, wore a dinner dress of amethyst-colored crepe with hat of natural shaded plumes and a corsage of purple orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a black ensemble with a corsage of white orchids.

A reception for 130 guests was held at the Contemporary Club. Afterward Lieutenants and Mrs. McConnell left for a wedding trip. Lieutenant McConnell expects to be assigned overseas. The bride will join him at his post as soon as possible after their return.

Mrs. McConnell attended Good Counsel Academy, White Plains High School and Marymount College, where she was active in the Choral Club and Art League. Lieutenant McConnell attended Kingston High School, Breton Preparatory School and was graduated in June from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. He is on a 34-day furlough from his base at the Engineering School, Fort Belvoir, Va.

OFFICE HOURS MUST BE RESPECTED

A problem that no one ever has brought to me before is described in this letter: "My mother holds two official positions with her office in her home and the public refuses to pay any attention to office hours. On the door we have a sign stating plainly the hours the office is open, but because it is the front door of our home, people think she should answer the bell any time of day or evening. Often we can hear people outside, having rung violently, remark, 'There must be somebody home. They live here.' And they keep on ringing. I feel that no matter where the office is, when a sign is posted with hours stated, it is not fair to expect service at any other time. Just like the sign, 'Keep Off the Grass,' it is put there for one purpose alone and that is to let people know that they should not go on the grass! Would you please make this point strong somehow in your column—if you agree."

I agree most certainly. There are, of course, occasions when perhaps it would be impossible for someone in business to get there between the hours stated. In which case, they could call during the hours that your mother is at her own telephone and ask for a special appointment. This, however, is done only if necessary.

To break into the privacy of anyone's home life is unfair and it takes very little imagination to realize what such interruptions repeated day after day can amount to.

Parents Are Chaperons
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper in this country (I am a foreigner) for a young man, not engaged to a girl, to stay overnight at her house? My son says that there is nothing unusual in this practice according to American customs.

Answer: Your opinion would be right if it is the house or apartment in which she is living alone, but if it is that of her parents, nothing could be more proper.

Friends Together Send Gift
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you tell us if it is permissible for a man and a woman who are not married and never engaged to give one wedding gift to a mutual friend?

Answer: Not usually, but not at all impossible if the three are intimate friends.

Do you know your ABC's in manners? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Behavior in Public," in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Army Recruiters Will Open Drive For Saugerties Men

Men desiring information concerning their chances of enlisting in the regular Army, if they reside in or near Saugerties, are asked to be at the post office building, Saugerties, between noon and 6 p. m., Friday.

Under recently announced regulations enlistments may be for 18 months, 24 months, or 36 months. Regulations also stipulate it is no longer necessary for men who have become 18 years of age to secure written consent of their parents or guardians. New York Guard

From the East, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York State stated—"Although the war is over, perhaps because the war is over, an important and necessary part of the duties you men of the Guard have undertaken, still lies before you. Your services must continue. The New York Guard is the only organized military unit in the State. We are now entering upon a period of demobilization and reorganization. You of the Guard constitute the only stable unit to provide insurance of internal security. I ask you, therefore, to carry on as you now are until the permanent reorganization of the National Guard can become an accomplished fact. That probably cannot be brought about for a year or more."

From the Central United States the Governor's Executive Office at Nashville, Tennessee states—"Although the war has ended, the objectives and purposes of the Tennessee State Guard have been in no wise diminished. Governor Jim McCord declared this week in urging that the Guard be maintained at its full strength.

"Pointing out that the State Guard is the only organized military force in the state subject to call in the event of emergency, need, Governor McCord cited a quotation from Tennessee's constitution. 'The sure and certain defense of a free people is a well regulated state militia.'"

And later in that Tennessee release it was said—"After every war, the nations involved are dislocated, and find themselves facing extensive readjustments. Even though we have been victorious, we still have a big job to do in America and in Tennessee in re-converting to peacetime activity. I deem the Guard an important element and urge that recruiting be continued and that every man and officer remain in active status."

And from the far South West the Adjutant General of the State of Texas says:—"World War I ended in 1918 and it was four years before the National Guard was established under the National Defense Act of 1922." And again General Knickerbocker says:—"All these things will take time. The multiplicity of problems before the War Department and Congress seem to preclude the writing of a new National Defense Act for some time to come."

And still again—"Meantime, the Texas State Guard is facing one of its greatest tests, in the preservation of law and order throughout the Postwar period. It is trained and equipped for this security work and the morale and enthusiasm of its members should be encouraged and increased." "The emergency is not over."

The New York Guard needs over 3,000 men. If you are an able-bodied citizen between the ages of 17 and 55—enlist in your nearest Guard unit.

Nine Are Discharged

The public relations branch at Fort Dix today released the names of nine more Ulster county soldiers who had received their honorable discharge from the U. S. Army. They are: Pvt. Patrick D'Ambrosio of Saugerties; T/4 Benjamin Dolman of Ellenville; P.F.C. John J. Gessex of 445 Abell street, Kingston; T/3 Samuel Marcus of 57 Meadow street, Kingston; S/Sgt. Clarence R. Markle of Prospect street, Kingston; S/Sgt. Warren W. Newkirk of 36 Liberty street, Kingston; T/5 William A. Fousant of Maitland; P.F.C. Frank V. Porto of Glasco; and P.F.C. Richard W. Wells of 30 Pettit avenue, Kingston.

Marshall Says Navy Never Consulted, Informed Army; Asks World Spy System

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told Senators today this country no longer can depend on "coffee cup" intelligence work but must have a world-wide espionage system.

The General of the armies urged maintenance of an over-all intelligence setup as an adjunct to the proposed merger of the Army and Navy into one military department.

"We should know as much as possible about the intent," as well as the military capabilities, of every country in the world," he testified before the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

Marshall said that before the war this country depended on information that could be obtained by military attaches "over the coffee cups at some dinner." He had a vague recollection, he said with a smile, that Congress discouraged any other kind of intelligence network.

"At the same time, the Five Star General said, all of the rest of the world was finding out what the United States was doing. He insisted that henceforth this country must put its intelligence on a 'business basis.'"

"We must know the facts for our own defense," he declared.

Gen. George C. Marshall, pleading for a unified postwar Army-Navy Department, said today the Navy neither "consulted nor informed" the Army when it made its postwar plans.

The Chief of Staff told the Senate Military Committee it had been exceedingly difficult during the war to get agreement on conflicting ideas of Army and Navy leaders.

That's why, he said, a mere continuation of the wartime joint chiefs of staff isn't enough.

Marshall declared the Navy Department recently sent Congress its plans for a postwar navy and marine force, and added:

"The War Department has neither been consulted nor informed."

"The general declared that under separate commands the War and Navy Departments would compete with each other in peacetime for congressional appropriations."

The committee, studying the nation's postwar military problems, is expected to get a request from Mr. Truman that every able bodied young man be required to take a year of military training.

"That was the belief today among legislators who have talked with Mr. Truman. They reported he will make the request in a message to Congress Tuesday."

Marshall said this country must have a constant powerful armed force to impress the "political leaders" and the professional soldiers of other nations, both friendly and unfriendly, that no act of aggression against the United States, however sudden, could succeed.

"The national security," he said, "is measured by the sum, or rather the combination of the three great arms—the land, air, and naval forces. The urgent need is for an overall, not a piecemeal appraisal of what is required to solve the single problem of national security with the greatest economy compatible with requirements."

"Even under the stress of war, agreement has been reached in the joint chiefs of staff at times only by numerous compromises and after long delays, and coordination in material and administrative matters has largely been forced by circumstances arising out of the war and then only incompletely.

"During the past year the voluntary cooperation of the army and navy under the impetus of war has reached a level which it would be extremely difficult, I think impossible, to continue in peacetime under any variation of the present two-department organization."

"With the end of the war, there is no longer a compelling necessity to reach at least compromise agreements on major matters. Current events have reinforced my view that the joint chiefs of staff could not be genuinely effective in peacetime as a coordinating agency."

Schirick Says Board Was Given Erroneous Report

The controversy over acceptance of certificates of nomination for the office of coroner was settled Wednesday when Justice Harry F. Schirick made an order in which he pointed out that the two political parties had until October 16, 1945 to file designating petitions. In the order he points out that the Board of Elections had been "misinformed" when told by a member of the attorney general's staff that the last date for filing petitions for the special election was October 9.

In keeping with the order of the court, the Board of Elections has now accepted for filing the certificates on nominations of both parties.

the back-to-work order took this task: Lewis may have been convinced that the alternative to ending the strikes—calling out all 400,000 soft coal miners and possibly the 72,000 anthracite miners as well—would not be a smashing success.

It is hard to get products to workers to let pay over their former bosses' grievances. No pay increase for the miners was involved.

The mine leader has been showing increasing concern over public opinion, even though his actions do not always reflect it.

Immediate Effect
The immediate effect of Lewis' action on the agencies and departments most involved was:

The Solid Fuels Administration lifted all its shipping restrictions in the seven mining districts where 1,010 mines had been closed down. S.F.A. also totaled up the cost of the strikes since September 21 at 15,000,000 tons and figured the year's total deficit now at 26,000,000 tons.

Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach, twice repulsed in his conciliation efforts in major stoppages in the oil and coal industries, named a committee to determine what's wrong with the U. S. Conciliation Service and find out a way to build it up.

Agencies searching for a wage-price policy capable of reducing the number of strikes over pay looked carefully at three specialties of Reconversion Director John W. Snyder for a way. Snyder apparently dropped a broad hint that the Truman administration wants to permit slight wage increases while holding living costs pretty much at present levels.

Schwelmbach's committee to study the Labor Department's role in mediation and voluntary arbitration will be headed by Dr. Sumner H. Slichter of Harvard University and Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York State Mediation Board. It will include industry and labor members.

Snyder has said that labor and management should keep examining changes in production costs with the gradual speed-up of volume production, with a view to increasing wage rates without increasing prices.

Interpreting this anonymously, one official of the Office of Economic Stabilization suggested it was "most unlikely" that there would be a flat declaration for a wage increase of 15 per cent or thereabouts, as had been proposed by Secretary of Commerce Wallace. Increases would have to be worked out industry by industry, or company by company, within the limits of present wage-price restrictions, this official thought.

The first coast-to-coast network broadcast was a Rose Bowl game, January 1, 1927.

There will be a demonstration of a new 1,000 gallon tank and 200-gallon pumper at West Nyack on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Fire Chief Walter Hoehn states that this is a very different type truck and believes all volunteer firemen will be interested in viewing the demonstration.

Port Jervis Here Friday To Play Maroon Gridders

Archlight Contest Uptown Expected to Offer Lots of Action for Fans

Determined to return to the victory column, Kingston High School football squad meets Port Jervis Friday night at the municipal stadium in a DUSO League game. Game time is 8:15. It is expected that a large gathering of football fans will be on hand to see these two eleven clash.

The Maroon and White is determined to avenge the two defeats it has suffered this year at the hands of Highland and Middletown. Not since the Haverstraw contest of September 21 have the forces of Coach Pete Hatch tasted the fruits of victory, and the win-thirsty Maroons are gunning for the Port Jervis contest Friday.

However, Port Jervis is also seeking to come out on top, so, for all indications, local fans who journey to the uptown ball park Friday night will see plenty of action right down to the final whistle.

Hard Battle, Says Hatch

By drilling his charges hard this past week, Coach Pete Hatch has endeavored to correct the mistakes the boys made in the Middletown contest which the Maroon lost by the heartbreaking score of 21-19.

"I think that the boys have learned a lesson," Coach Pete Hatch told the press, "and I'm hoping that they can give a good account of themselves when they take the field Friday. However, we can expect Port Jervis to be tough, and it's going to take plenty of fight if we expect to come out on top."

Port Jervis has shown great improvement this year over last year's miserable showing. The Red Raiders, although they have won only one game this year, defeating Liberty 13-0, expect to give the Maroon a good run for its money in Friday's contest. Coach Al Chase who has returned to Port after a year in the armed forces, is rebuilding the great grid dynasty he developed at the tri-state school in prewar days. Although he has green material to work with, the Port mentor has installed a fighting spirit into the Red and Black eleven which has made it a tough team to beat. "My boys have worked hard this year," Coach Chase remarked to a reporter, "and Kingston is going to find no soft touch when they take the field against us. Although very few of the boys are experienced enough to be called veterans, each one of them is determined to give the best he's got right down to the final whistle."

Big Job for Line

The powerful Kingston forward wall will again be called upon to do a man sized job Friday night. The Maroon line which has proven itself to be the strongest in the DUSO League is led by Captain Bob Hansen, 180-pound right guard. Hansen has been blasting all opposing lines on the offense and defense, and has proven he has great possibilities of becoming the lineman of the year in the DUSO League. Also doing the kicking for the Maroon, Hansen is becoming the most valuable player on the Kingston eleven. The Maroon captain has shown himself to be a great leader by his great play which will make him a candidate for all-DUSO honors at the end of the season.

Assisting Hansen in making the Kingston line the most powerful in the DUSO loop are six boys any coach would not object to having on his team. These are Lou Boice and Herm Schwenk, ends; Sam Whitman and Bob Wisneski, tackles; Jack Ostrander, center; Jerry Smith guard. Also becoming a candidate for all-DUSO honors is Bob Wisneski, Kingston right tackle. Crashing through opposing forward walls on every play, Wisneski has shown great power on both the offense and defense. The 170-pound Maroon tackle is fast becoming one of the best tackles

Fight Mob Confident That Louis, Conn Will Meet in N. Y.

Plan Is Arranged To Help Boxing in Cities of Nation

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Boxing promoters in seven cities stretching from Boston to St. Louis have joined up in an outfit to "give financial and publicity aid" for fight shows throughout the country, and to foster what the organization announces will be "Class A boxing in America."

Larry Atkins, Cleveland promoter and president of the new "Boxing Promoters of America, Inc.," said the purpose of the new organization will be to give financial assistance to "promoters so that they may present the finest fight talent available," and to "create major boxing centers."

Along with Atkins, officers in the organization are Herman Taylor, veteran Philadelphia promoter, vice president, and Max Waxman, manager of Jack Dempsey, as secretary.

Soucheck Rejoins Cornell Grid Squad

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Left halfback Don Soucheck, injured in the Bucknell game October 6, was ready for work again as the Cornell University football squad continued practice today for the Yale game at New Haven, a week from Saturday.

Coach Ed McKeever has scheduled double practice sessions daily for newcomers and those not participating in examinations. Paul Robinson Jr., star end last year who withdrew from school in anticipation of a Selective Service call, is expected in a few days.

In case the regular linemen need help, Coach Hatch has Bill Ellisworth, Babe Higgins, Joe Curroli, Ed Weaver, Charlie Bouton, Ed Jordan, Ed McCordie, Neal Dunham, Joe Albany, Joe Hill, Vinve DeLuca and George Boudikus on hand to give assistance.

Starting Lineup

The starting backfield for the Maroon and White is expected to be Dick Reynolds at quarterback, Gene Fitzgerald and Bill Crosby at the halfback slots, and Art Bellini at fullback. Fitzgerald, the speedy left half who proved himself one of the best backs in the DUSO League when he ran wild through a good Middletown team last week, is the pace setter of the Maroon running attack. The 61-year touchdown run made by Fitz last week has made him a marked man among DUSO teams. Arnold Bellini has also given good account of himself for his powerful line plunges so far this year, and is the man that the Maroon quarterback calls on when a few yards are needed.

Ready for action on a moment's notice are Bill Blume, Ken Whipple, Sam Mills, and Frank Bailey, the members of the reserve backfield.

Other DUSO Games

In the other DUSO League action this week, Middletown will play host to Newburgh at Wilson Field Friday night under the lights. The Goldbacks are favored in this contest, but the Middies are determined not to go down without a fight. The winner of this game will move into undisputed possession of first place in the DUSO loop.

It was announced by Coach G. Warren Kias that the game scheduled for October 27 at Newburgh could be played Friday, October 26, under the lights. Originally scheduled for a sunlit affair, the Kingston-Newburgh contest has been changed to accommodate popular clamor for the popular early-light contests in Newburgh.

Jayvers Play Saturday

Saturday afternoon at the municipal stadium, the Kingston High Jayves squad will meet a powerful Warwick varsity. The Maroon will seek their first win of the season over Warwick, but will have to show more than they've shown in their first two contests to win out. Losing to the Browns 7-0, and Port Jervis 6-0, the Maroon has shown great possibilities, but not enough stamina to come out on top.

Boys on Jacobs' Beach Are Sure-Pa Knickerbocker Won't Let Big Clash Slip From Grasp

By SID FEDER

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Mike Jacobs is a New Jersey tulip grower with an ambidextrous ability as a fight promoter.

And today he was busy with both hands.

With one, he was shoving a pen into Billy Conn's dainty "Duke," trying to get the Pittsburgh pretty boy to forget his "beef" and sign on the dotted line for a return go with Joe Louis. With the other, Mike was holding an "auction" over the site of the Louis-Conn nose-mashing.

With this left-handed job, Uncle Mike was trying to tell you how the $3,000,000 taffy-pull next June would go to the place "we'll get the most money." He carefully explained how Philadelphia and its huge municipal auditorium and Soldier Field were running neck and neck for the big pot, and he was open to all offers.

But around Jacobs' Beach, the wild waves were saying that the Windy City would have to put up the Loop and the City of Brotherly Love would have to give up Billy Penn from off the top of city hall to get this tussle out of Yankee Stadium, N. Y., when post-time rolls round.

Tax Problem

The only thing standing in the way, according to the beachcomber, was the 5 per cent "bite" New York state puts on movie. Other states, with stiff tariffs, were said to be willing to ease a point here and slice a point there in order to land this juicy slab of apple pie. So, it was considered likely Pa Knickerbocker would throw a big pitch to hang onto it, and would not let a comparatively small change "rhubarb" like the movie money stand in the way. "Pa" still remembers the howl that went up when the Dempsey-Timney going went to Philly. And Mike still has to do business in this village after the Louis-Conn festivities.

As for getting Conn to sign up for the fuss, Mike had a session lined up today with the legal member of Billy's fistie family, as a follow-up to the hour-long howling party he had with Billy's manager, Johnny Ray, yesterday.

Doesn't Like It

Johnny, making his first New York appearance since Billy was belted out by Joe in the 13th round in June 1941, told Mike the contract, as far as he was concerned, was about as valuable as a weaver oil stock. His chief objection was to the clause that said the late Army corporal couldn't have any exhibition or tune-up appearances before the big break-busting party.

Johnny wants Billy to have three tune-ups in the bushes before he steps out there to try to do what he almost did the last time he said howdy to Joe. And when Mike tried to tell him that Louis signed without asking for any tune-ups, Johnny explained he wasn't managing the Bomber, and for Jacobs to take that up with Joe.

That was Johnny's only holler over the contract yesterday, but the chances are his legal "mouth-piece" will give him something new to stew about today before he finally signs, as peaceful as you please. You see, one of Johnny's joys of life is to steam Uncle Mike up very warm for October.

RUBBER AWAKES TAPPERS

Real rubber may come first from the Philippines, if certain supplies can be obtained there. Three rubber plantations are reported ready for tapping, with only a few weeks preparation. Some portable equipment used in tapping rubber for shipment, which was buried on the island of Basilan before the arrival of the Japanese, has been recovered in good condition. When the plantations can be worked again, it is believed that about 150 tons of crude rubber a month can be shipped.

Philly Plans Party For Olympic Athletes

Philadelphia, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Philadelphia Olympic Committee says it is planning a "silver jubilee reunion" of all American participants in Olympic games from 1896 to 1936.

The date has not been set. Committee spokesmen said invitations are being sent to hundreds of athletes and prominent individuals, including Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was president of the American Olympic Committee in 1928.

Syracuse Ends Four-Day Layoff

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Syracuse University's varsity football squad has ended a four-day layoff following victory over West Virginia last Friday night.

Limbering up work and correcting of individual mistakes constituted part of yesterday's practice. The team also polished an offensive which Coach Ossie Solem has readied for the Dartmouth game here October 27.

Stoneham Not Interested In Cards 'Mr. Shortstop'

Labels Johnny Rigney as Player Who Will Be in Same Class as Marty Marion

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Unlike most major league club owners who would like to have the services of Marty Marion, termed the "Mr. Shortstop" of baseball, President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants is not interested in the St. Louis Cardinals' star.

"We're ready to pay any reasonable sum for any player that would help our club," said the Giants boss yesterday, as he escorted a group of writers around the Polo Grounds which is being revamped for next year, "but I believe we are going to come up with a shortstop who in a few years will be every bit as good as Marion."

"His name is John Rigney," continued Stoneham, "and we obtained him from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League in the deal that sent Dolf Camilli to manage the Oaks in 1944. Rigney, at the time, was in the Navy, and still is. Next to the return of Johnny Mize, the biggest boost our club could get would be Rigney's release."

"Reports from Hawaii and the Pacific isles where Rigney has participated in the Army-Navy exhibitions," Stoneham went on, "All agree that Rigney can step into the lineup of almost any big league team right now. Why, Jack Hughes (general manager of the Detroit Tigers) is so high on the kid, he's ready to give me half a dozen players for him."

Rigney, 22 years old and spectacular, spent the last two of his four years in organized baseball, with Oakland. Although not rated an exceptionally strong hitter, he amassed a 288 batting percentage via 184 base hits in his last year before enlisting in the Navy in December of 1942. The figure was 80 points over his 1941 mark—1.208.

It was his fielding style that won praise and led to his purchase by the Giants. Veteran coach Vergez, former Giant infielder, averred they had not seen anyone field the position with such sureness and grace since Joe Gordon cavorted at short for the Oaks some dozen years ago. In two years, Rigney accepted 1,693 chances, about 850 per season. They claimed he owned a stronger throwing arm than either Frankie Corsetti or Oscar Slade, who worked them with rifle throws some years back.

Stoneham figures that with Mize at first, Rigney at short, Buddy Korr at third and Mickey Witke back at second plus a strong outfield headed by Manager Mel Ott, Babe Young, another recent discharge, and Willard Marshall, now in the marines, all the Giants need to be in the running for the 1946 pennant are two top-

Van Gonsic, Smith Out for Twaalfskin Title on Saturday

A sizeable gallery is expected to turn out at Twaalfskin Club Saturday afternoon to witness the golf match between Van Gonsic, recent semi-finalist winner, and Lou Smith, last year's champion of the club.

Van Gonsic recently defeated Richard Miller, thus winning crack at Smith for the championship honors. The battle of the golfers was a close one, the two keeping their scores balanced until the final hole on which Van Gonsic won out.

Smith is in good form again this year and Van Gonsic will have to take the title away from the World War II veteran.

As it becomes increasingly evident that the "secret" of the atomic bomb lies principally in the ability to construct plants for its production, talk of what to do about it turns more and more on method to prevent man from

The inevitable result of such a step now would be a return to prewar attitudes. Russia, who felt herself forced into a pact with Germany when she decided, rightly or wrongly, that France and England were encouraging Hitler to move east instead of west, Russia's ideological war with capitalism is still a very real international issue, regardless of how

The Dublin, N. H., pronouncement by a group interested in a world peace, that a federation of the world is the only answer, is as though a natural reaction. It is as though they said that man, driven by new fear, must now decide to do at once what he has known for ages that he must do in the future. Aldrich Tennyson, who predicted almost 100 years ago that, after the world's "airy nois" had been a ghastly dew, there would be accomplished a federation of the nations, predicted the first to express this dream. It has been repeated so often as to become almost a truism. But it usually is considered something for the future, rather than the present. The Dublin meeting presented an example itself, in a way, when Justice Owen Roberts and some of its other leaders felt unable to agree with the majority in its will-preferred to be established by step, with an initial union of the United States with other nations which already have adopted liberty for individuals.

That apparently would mean, so far as major powers are concerned, Britain and the United States, would be mere formalization of a union which already exists in practice.

For establishing a war, or for one nation establishing hegemony over another through military might, would be swift and certain. But with the situation as it actually exists, the U.N.O. charter, with hopes for revision, plus some specific agreements on atomic power, seem about the best practical hope.

Dutchess Hunter Dies of Wounds

Dutchess county's first fatality of the hunting season was the death Wednesday of Preston Locklain, 42, Yonkers, at the Northern Dutchess Health Center in Rhinebeck, of gunshot wounds.

He was shot Tuesday while hunting squirrels with two other young men on the Indorkill farm at Pleasant Plains. Lockkain, according to Corp. Darby and Trooper Harry Sindt of the State Troopers, had wounded a squirrel in a tree, and one of his companions was walking toward the tree to shoot at the animal when his left foot slipped and his gun was accidentally discharged.

Peron Rides New Power in Argentina As Foes Collapse

Farrell Tosses Out Cabinet and Hails Peron as Man for People; Avalos Mystery

Buenos Aires, Oct. 18 (AP)—National-wide strike by 500,000 members of the General Confederation of Workers who supported Col. Juan Peron, former vice president, in a new surge to power, today brought nearly to a stop Argentina's industrial and commercial activity.

At the same time a high source said the Argentine high seas fleet had moved out of its base at Puerto Belgrano, 500 miles south of Buenos Aires.

Destinations of the fleet was unknown, but Adm. Hector Vernengo Lima, a leader of the movement which ousted Peron on October 9, was in turn thrown out of office yesterday in the political upheaval which saw Peron returned to a position of dominance.

Peron himself, after forcing the formation of a cabinet of his friends, hailed the strike as celebrating "a day of glory for the workers."

Thousands of idle workers took to the streets in Buenos Aires today and conducted demonstrations on Peron's behalf.

The railroad union said train traffic was completely stopped throughout the nation. Buenos Aires transportation facilities were described as "completely paralyzed."

Street cars, subways and busses and taxis were stopped in the capital. There were few delivery trucks or private cars in the streets. Only the smallest commercial shops were open.

Light, water and telephone service continued, however.

Demonstrations last night attempted to storm the house of Socialist leader Alfred Palacios, he reported. They were turned back by his friends.

A police blockade extended two square blocks around the building of the pro-Democratic newspaper Critica.

Truman Thinks Japs Should Get Free Election

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman said today it would be a good idea if the Japanese people had an opportunity to decide the fate of their emperor in a free election.

He also told his news conference in reply to questions that this government is in correspondence with all interested governments in an effort to break the stalemate resulting from the London conference of foreign ministers.

These formal consultations, he added, also involve efforts to get a full attendance at next Tuesday's meeting here on an American plan to set up an Allied advisory body on Japanese occupation. Of the ten governments invited, Russia has not accepted, asking instead that Big Four control of Japan be provided prior to such a conference.

The president said he believed the situation would be worked out. He emphasized that not only were the Big Five powers represented in the London conference, but all the others interested in Far Eastern questions.

No additional "Big Three" meeting is now contemplated, he stated.

He said in response to other questions that he did not know why Russian Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko made a hurried flight to Washington from London this week and then flew back after an overnight stay, but he assumed it was on personal business.

The president told reporters he
